

Mr. Martinez Exam 1 Name: _____
STAT C1000 / Math 54 Fall 2026 (Practice)
Version P1

This is a closed book with no notes allowed exam. PLEASE PRINT ALL ANSWERS. Any answer that cannot be read will receive 0 points. Good Luck.

1) Answer each of the following (below) clearly and concisely. First identify the variable of interest (1 point), next state whether it is a Qualitative (categorical/attribute) variable or a Quantitative (numerical) variable (2 points), state whether it is nominal, ordinal, discrete, or continuous (2 points), lastly the level of measurement (2 points). (7 points total each)

A) The number of streaming apps you currently subscribe to.

B) The time of day your first class begins, recorded in military (24-hour) time.

C) How much your laptop weighs (in pounds).

D) Customer satisfaction ratings from one star to five stars.

E) The time it takes you to walk from the parking lot to your classroom.

2) The following is a statistical experiment. Please read carefully, and then identify the parts indicated in parts A–E below.

Santa Monica College wants to know the true average number of hours their students spend working at a paid job per week by major. They break up the student body into majors using registration records and take a random sample from each major for a total of 300 students.

A) What is the population parameter (proper symbol and description) of interest the college wants to estimate? (2 points each, 4 points total).

B) Describe the targeted population. Be specific. (2 points)

C) Describe the variable of interest involved (4 points). What type of variable and level of measurement is it? (4 points).

D) Describe the sample and which sampling method was utilized. (3 points)

E) What is the statistic including the proper symbol (4 points) and how would you calculate the statistic? (3 points)

End of Exam — Total: 59 points (Q1: 35 + Q2: 24)